

Even our awards win awards.

It's true. We often win awards for the way we win awards.

You hear a lot about the awards that law firms win for their clients. What you don't hear a lot about are the awards that attorneys win from their peers. That's because they are few and far between for most law firms.

At Thorsnes, Bartolotta, McGuire & Padilla the awards which give us the most satisfaction are the ones that don't make the headlines.

Like having three of our twelve partners named as "Best Lawyers in America." Two have been part of this elite group since its inception in 1987. Or having partners earn Outstanding Trial Lawyer Awards twelve times in thirteen years.

Six of our "Outstanding Trial Lawyer" Awards were for construction defect or subsidence cases.

When it comes time to choose a law firm, look beyond their courtroom record. It's the awards that don't make the headlines that are the most important ones a firm can win.
